

Intermediate & Senior Competitions Round 4

Des Connors, our judge for the evening 'got joined in the craic' and the bobbly Santas on the top of his head were a great distraction to any critical comments that may have been made about our images, but they were few and far between.

No surprise this month, the standard was very high in both Intermediate and Senior sections and Des declared his delight to be judging these for us.

The Advanced Section had a poor entry, with Christmas a busy time for some, but three images received the maximum score of 20 points. Brendan Tumilty's monochrome image "Peasant's Kitchen" and his colour image "Who's next?" scored 20 and Evalds Gaspazin's colour image "Ready to Jump" also achieved the top score. Well done to the both of them.

The Senior Section was hotly contested with 5 images awarded the top mark. Gabriel O'Shaughnessy almost had a clean sweep with three of his images, "Attitude" and "Piano Player" in the monochrome and "Violin Player" in the colour each scoring 20. Charlie Flynn was awarded 20 for his monochrome image "My oh my" and Tony McDonnell received the top mark for his monochrome image "Girl and Wall Painting".

However, bragging rights for the night went to Evalds for "Ready to Jump" his stunning image of a red squirrel getting ready to jump off a branch. Congratulations to Evalds and, once again, congratulations to every one who participated.

Our first night back after Christmas is Thursday, 8th January, which is the 5th round of the Non-Advanced Competition with Gabriel O'Shaughnessy adjudicating.
