

Round 3 of Non Advanced Competition

What a fantastic array of images Judge Arthur Caron was treated to last week. Its many years since we have seen such a consistently high standard of entry in the non advanced section. In fact, given the scores since the opening competition, we may well have been looking at some of the best non-advanced work in the club particularly among Nature and Portraiture.

Arthur, no novice when it comes to portraits, remarked upon how good some of the work was. However, as frequently happens on rounds of DPS in house competitions, there was one person who stood out on the night and on this occasion it was Mark Conroy. Mark is one of our new members this year. He scored no less than 4 twenties! Arthur also awarded one of these as Image of the Month.

The second half of the night saw Arthur exhibit his fellowship panel of twenty images along with some additional images he captured while in India. Arthur's modesty made it all appear almost easy!
