

Threeway Tournament

This year's Three-way tournament was hosted in Banbridge with Balinahinch and Dundalk crews travelling in significant numbers. This made for a very enjoyable evening together with some wonderful images on display. Our judge for the night was John Miskelly who displayed a comprehensive knowledge of each of the landscapes presented and had a keen eye for detail. You can view John's work on his own website www.johnmiskelly.co.uk A minute of silence was held for the recently departed Colin Thompson and some very poignant remembrances were called to mind by his friends from Ballinahinch.

After displaying all monochrome and then all colour images, each commented upon by John Miskelly, each club chose their top ten images for scoring. The final totals for each club were 280, 286 and 338 with Dundalk Photographic Society coming out on top.

Pictured below is Dundalk's Damien O'Malley who was judged to have the best colour image on the night. John Miskelly deliberated long and hard on Damien's composite image and finally declared that he could find no faults whatsoever.
