

Julien Behal

Guest speaker 5th April

Julien, who is the Press Photographers Association of Ireland overall winner in 2012 will be visiting us to show his work on 5th April.

Belgian born Julien, graduated with a journalism degree in 1997 he began working as a freelance photographer in Dublin. He joined the leading photographic agency, Maxwell's in 1999 and since then has worked with all the major national and international titles including the Irish Times, Irish Independent, USA Today, New York Times, Haaretz, Getty Images and is currently employed as a staff photographer with the Press Association, based in Dublin.

He has been a recipient of several national photographic awards for his coverage of Irish current affairs and also his project on the population in Belarus after the Chernobyl nuclear accident.

He has recently finished a documentary film making course and includes film making in his recent projects.

He currently lives in Dublin.

For more information check out <http://julienbehal.com/index.htm>